

AL- MADINAH INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY

A Leading International University

Al-Madinah International University is founded on Islamic principles and values to provide an education tool to enable its students to live in the the modern world.

HISTORY

A group of renowned Muslim scholars wanted to provide contemporary Muslims with modern yet suitable educational tools which would equip them to live in a Muslim world today. They decided to establish Al-Madinah International University (MEDIU).

The university is named after Al-Madinah Al-Munawwarah, the city where Prophet Muhammad (SAW) established the capital of the first Islamic state. It is also considered the qibla for those seeking Islamic knowledge.

MEDIU obtained approval as a university from the Ministry of Higher Education in December 2006 and subsequently was registered as a full-fledged university in June 2007.

MEDIU operates under Malaysia's Private Higher Education Act of 1996 (Act 555) which governs its establishment and the administration in order to provide a conducive learning environment for students of higher learning. Al-Madinah International University is known for its Islamic Studies.

The university has six faculties, namely, University Faculty of Islamic Sciences, Faculty of Languages, Faculty of Computer and Information Technology, Faculty of Finance & Administrative Science, Faculty of Education and Faculty of Engineering and a Centre of Languages.

Students can choose to study on campus or opt for distance learning (E-learning). E-learning incorporates all forms of electronically-supported learning and teaching, including Edtech. This often involves both out-of-classroom and in-classroom educational experiences via technology. For on-campus, students have to be at a campus at a specific time to follow the programmes, with assistance from the teacher, professor, or teaching assistant.
